Description

The bench consists of 2 massive sides serving as bench leg and armrest at the same time. Between these sides, a seat and a back are mounted. The sides are made of five 10 x 10 cm standards of which the hindmost one is longer and placed at a 5° angle. The back is fixed between the hindmost standards and consists of two 5 x 12 cm boards. Four shorter standards form the base of an armrest and are provided with a 3 x 10 cm rounded finishing board on top. The seat consists of three 5 x 12 cm boards individually reinforced underneath with a countersunk metal profile.

Anchorage

The bench legs are anchored by means of a metal attachment screwed to the bench legs. Through a hole in this attachment, a steel wire-bar is inserted with which the bench is anchored. Cf. separate schedule on anchorage.
